Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 31 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and scattered showers.

Today:
A day of sunshine and showers for much of the region. Some of the showers could be heavy at times with the risk of thunder, especially in the afternoon. Feeling warmer than previous days. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Daytime showers fade into the evening leaving a mostly dry night with clear spells for many. Feeling cooler than recent nights. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
Another day of sunny spells and scatted showers. Some of the showers will be heavy at times and perhaps thundery. However, it should become drier into the evening. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Unsettled conditions continue into next week starting with a scattering of showers on Monday. Tuesday starts mostly dry before showers return and become heavier on Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.